A charming location in a splendid city, appealing to international professionals

Fiera Pastaria will be held just a stone's throw from the centre of Florence, at the Stazione Leopolda, a delightful and unique location which used to be a railway station in the first half of the 19th century and has now been converted into a venue for glamorous events.

Protected for its historical-artistic value, the Stazione Leopolda is a single space with a metal roof divided into two wide aisles.

The Stazione Leopolda was Florence's first railway station. It was completed in 1848 and named "Leopolda" in honour of the reigning Grand Duke.

An original layout for a trade fair with functional stands

The Stazione Leopolda, which features a single hall divided into two aisles, enables visitors to see the entire event without missing any of the exhibition.

Pre-fitted modular stands to guarantee an excellent trade fair experience are available to Fiera Pastaria exhibitors. They are especially designed to meet the needs of the different suppliers: machinery, ingredients or services.

International promotion across the board, using all the tools available to Pastaria

Fiera Pastaria will make use of all of Pastaria's specialised information tools to promote the widest possible attendance of professional operators and spark the interest of investors wishing to open pasta factories.

Articles and advertising pages in Pastaria, digital and in print (sent regularly to 110 countries), posts on pastaria.it, newsletters dedicated to registered operators, posts on social channels (LinkedIn, Twitter, Facebook), promotion in Pastaria webinars and in the most important international meetings, will guarantee a numerous and qualified presence of operators in the pasta food production sector, of all types and sizes.

Parallel with the tenth edition of the Pastaria Festival, a unique synergy designed to encourage wide participation

At the Stazione Leopolda venue, on the same days as Fiera Pastaria, visitors can also enjoy the eighth edition of the Pastaria Festival, the annual training, professional development and networking event for the pasta production sector. The sector's key players – associations, professional bodies, universities, pasta factories and experts – will meet in Florence to share their knowledge and expertise in pasta production during a day of meetings, workshops, presentations, lessons and much, much more. The Pastaria Festival jam-packed programme will appeal to trade operators, encouraging them to visit the pavilions of Fiera Pastaria.

Sponsorships and partnerships with the most prestigiou international associations of pasta manufacturers

Pastaria collaborates with the most prestigious Italian and international associations of pasta manufacturers and has obtained the sponsorship of ABIMAPI (Brazil), APPAFRE (Italy), APPF (Italy), IPO (international), UIFRA (Argentina), UNAFPA (EU), Unione Italiana Food (Italy).
